

If used in this report, the term “the Company” is in reference to Outhouz, Inc., d.b.a The Lood Company, and its subsidiaries, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise.

Summary

August saw a sharp decrease in development expenditure due to Hurricane Ida. Which required the consolidation of resources in order to maintain our other more autonomous adult brands while we were away. Although there was some experimentation regarding Ethereum asset-to-Bitcoin swapping. Further testing will be required before rolling these features out in earnest.

In addition, plans to circulate 1,000,000 LOOD issued at approximately $0.00012 per token will continue according to the guidelines outlined in the promotion, which is now closed. Members of our Telegram have been included as well. This is expected to equate to 31 new holders.
